Verbatim Report of Evidence

124. On the trial of an election petition, a verbatim report shall be taken of the evidence given, and a transcript of such report shall accompany the certificate given by the High Court under section 120.

(2) Any such witness who, in the course of the trial of an election petition, wilfully makes a statement of fact material in the proceedings which he knows to be false or does not believe to be true shall be guilty of an offence and liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding four hundred rand or to imprisonment not exceeding two years, or to both such fine and imprisonment.

Examination of Witnesses

126. On the trial of an election petition, the Court may examine any witness or any person in court, although such witness or person is not called or examined by any party to the petition, and after the examination of a witness as aforesaid by the Court, such witness may be cross-examined by or on behalf of the petitioner and respondent or either of them.

Witnesses not Excused from Answering Incriminating Questions

127. (1) No person who is called as a witness at the trial of any election petition shall be excused from answering any question relating to any corrupt practice or illegal practice at or connected with any election then forming the subject of inquiry on the ground of privilege or on the ground that the answer thereto may criminate or tend to criminate himself.

(2) If any witness fully answers to the satisfaction of the Court every question relating to any matter mentioned in subsection (1) which he is required by the Court to answer, and the answer to which may criminate him, such witness shall be absolutely freed and discharged from all liability to prosecution, either at the public instance or at the instance of any private party, for any offence under this Act committed by him previous to the time of his evidence and at or in relation to the election concerned or in relation to which the witness may have been so examined and the witness shall be entitled to receive under the hand of the Registrar of the High Court a Certificate stating that he is so freed and discharged from all liability to prosecution as aforesaid.

Expenses of Witnesses

128. The reasonable expenses incurred by any person appearing to give evidence at the trial of an election petition, according to the scale usually allowed to witnesses in civil proceedings before the High Court, may be allowed to such person, and such expenses shall be deemed to be costs of the petition.

Respondent May Testify that Election of Petitioner Undue

129. On the trial of an election petition complaining of an undue election or undue return and claiming the seat for some person, the respondent may give evidence to prove that the election of that person was undue, in the same manner as if the respondent had presented an election petition complaining of such election.

Withdrawal of Petition

130. An election petition shall not be withdrawn without the leave of the High Court and after such notice has been given as the Court may direct.

On Motion to Withdraw Another Petitioner May be Substitued

131. On the hearing of the application for withdrawal of an election petition, any person who might have been a petitioner in respect of the election to which the election petition relates may apply to the High Court to be substituted for a petitioner who desires to withdraw.

Substitution of Petitioner and Court's Power if Petition Improperly Withdrawn

132. (1) The High Court may, if it thinks fit, substitute as a petitioner any such applicant as aforesaid and may further, if the proposed withdrawal has been, in the opinion of the Court, induced by any corrupt bargain or consideration, by order direct that the security given on behalf of the original petitioner shall remain as security for any costs that may become payable by the substituted petitioner and that the original petitioner shall be liable to pay such costs.

(2) If no such order is made with respect to the security given on behalf of the original petitioner, security to the same amount as would be required in the case of a new election petition, and subject to the like conditions, shall be given on behalf of the substituted petitioner before he proceeds with his petition and within fourteen days after the order of substitution.

(3) Subject as aforesaid, a substituted petitioner shall stand in the same position, as nearly as may be, and be subject to the same liabilities as the original petitioner.

Costs of Withdrawal of Petition

133. If an election petition is withdrawn, the petitioner shall be liable to pay the costs of the respondent.

All Petitioners Must Consent to Withdrawal

Petition Abated on Death of Petitioner

135. (1) An election petition shall be abated by the death of the sole petitioner or of all the petitioners, as the case may be, but such abatement shall not affect the liability of the estate of any petitioner to the payment of costs previously incurred.

(2) On the abatement of an election petition any person who might have been a petitioner in respect of the election to which the petition relates may, within twenty-one days after such abatement apply to the High Court to be substituted as a petitioner, and the Court may thereupon, if it thinks fit, substitute as a petitioner any such applicant, who desires to be substituted and on whose behalf security to the same amount is given as is required in the case of a new petition.

Petition Not Opposed by Respondent

136. A respondent who has given notice that he does not intend to oppose the election petition shall not without the leave of the High Court be allowed to appear or to act as a party against such election petition in any proceedings thereon and shall not sit or vote in the National Assembly pending the result of the trial of the election petition, and the Court shall, in all cases in which such notice has been given, report the same to the Speaker.

Costs of Petition

137. (1) All costs, charges and expenses of and incidental to the presentation of an election petition and to the proceedings consequent thereon shall, subject to paragraph (j) of section 120 be defrayed by the parties to the petition in such manner and in such proportions as the High Court may determine, regard being had to the disallowance of any costs, charges or expenses which may, in the opinion of the Court, have been caused by vexatious conduct, unfounded allegations or unfounded objections on the part either of the petitioner or the respondent, and regard being had also to the discouragement of any needless expense by throwing the burden of defraying the same on the parties by whom it has been caused, whether such parties are or are not on the whole successful.

(2) Costs may be taxed and recovered in the same manner as the costs of civil proceedings in the High Court.

Default in Payment of Costs

138. If any petitioner in an election petition makes default for the space of one month after demand in paying to any person summoned as a witness on his behalf or to the respondent any sum certified to be due to him for his costs, charges or expenses and if the default is proved to the satisfaction of the High Court, every person who has entered into a recognizance relating to the petition shall be held to have made default on his recognizance and the Registrar shall thereupon certify such recognizance to be forfeited, and execution may thereupon by leave of the High Court, be sued out thereon at the suit of any such witness or respondent as occasion may require.

Non-compliance with Part VI or Part VII of this Act Not Invalidating Election

139. No election shall be set aside by the High Court by reason of any mistake or non-compliance with the provisions of Part VI or Part VII, if it appears to the Court that the election was conducted in accordance with the principles laid down in part VI or Part VII and that such mistake or non-compliance did not affect the result of the election.
